Innovation's Detroit Headquarters

35 Years ago, our co-founders asked an incredibly innovative question. What if industrial trash could become educational treasure? We know now that Project-Based Learning and Inquiry-Based Learning yields significantly higher results for students, if the teacher can afford the materials to bring it to them. Reused materials turned out to be the key to this innovative model, bringing Arts & Scraps' STEAM programming to over 2.5 Million children over our 35 Years.

All these years, students (our "Alumni") have been inspiring us with the way creative reuse materials and their imaginations design new tech, businesses, inventions of all sorts, every animal we never knew existed, and more. Whether we were serving at Arts & Scraps' east side headquarters or out in the community, the results are the same: students dazzle us each day with their innovation.

With your help, we will have year-round programming in every neighborhood in Detroit by 2030, bringing our programs right to student's doors. We are the start to the STEM pipeline that leads students to better futures.

35 Years later, we know one thing will remain the same: our Arts & Scraps community will create impact in and for Detroit and our world. Join us in this work and become a 2023-2024 Sponsor.
